Dog Days: New Student Orientation is a program designed to help new students transition into the University. During orientation, students will meet with an academic counselor, a major adviser, and register for classes. Dog Days is mandatory for all incoming students.

PRIDE OF THE VALLEY™

A vibrant, diverse and award-winning university, Fresno State offers high-quality academic programs that emphasize hands-on learning experiences designed to prepare students for success after graduation.

As students, they'll learn from our regionally, nationally and globally recognized faculty who are at the top of their professions in the areas of agriculture, arts and humanities, business, education, engineering, health and human services, science and math, and the social sciences. As graduates, they'll join the esteemed Bulldog alumni network made up of over 240,000 living alumni worldwide.

1

1) On-campus support services provide students with free food and hygiene products, professional clothing attire, academic support, and comprehensive health and wellness services so they can focus on what's centrally important: reaching their personal, academic and career goals.

2

2) Our 16:1 student-to-faculty ratio ensures students receive unique, hands-on learning opportunities and faculty have the capacity to create innovative curriculum advancements. Visit stories.fresnostate.edu to learn how Dr. Kathleen Rindahl spearheaded the Community Health Mobile Unit, a project that allows supervised Fresno State students to offer free health screenings in the region's underserved communities.

3

3) The Cross Cultural and Gender Center, Veterans Services Office and Dream Success Center program are just a few programs and initiatives which reflect our tremendous diversity. For more than 50 years, enriching ethnic studies programs have been offered to students, including Chicano and Latin American studies, Asian American studies, Africana studies, Native American studies, Jewish studies and more. More recently, Fresno State appointed its inaugural University Diversity Officer who leads the Division of Equity and Engagement.

4

4) Fresno State's renowned library offers a variety of free services, including tutoring, research assistance and technology lending, which provides free iPads and Apple® Smart Keyboards to incoming students. Students have access to study rooms, the Graduate Writing Studio and Starbucks.®

5

5) The Bulldog Marching Band, known as the Best Band in the West, is a NCAA Division I marching band that provides nearly 300 students of all majors with local, national and international performance opportunities. Visit stories.fresnostate.edu to watch psychology alumna Mackenzie Lazarus perform with the band in the 2023 St. Patrick's Day parade in Dublin, Ireland.

6

6) As the premier major college athletics program between Southern California and the Bay Area, Fresno State builds champions in the classroom, in competition and in life. Fresno State Athletics is the Pride of the Valley and brings together nearly 40,000 fans at each home football game.

7) Bulldog Bowl is a 12-lane bowling alley located in the heart of campus. Students can earn credit toward their degree by registering for a bowling course, or enjoy games and billiards between classes with a group of friends.

8) The Lynda and Stewart Resnick Student Union is an ultra-modern building that assists in advancing student success, enriching student life, and offers a sense of belonging on campus. It's home to a number of student services, including the official student government organization, Associated Students, Inc.

9) The Save Mart Center is the largest university indoor arena on the West Coast of the U.S., featuring everything from concerts to bull riding to NCAA basketball playoffs to commencement ceremonies.

10) Campus Pointe, located on the Fresno State campus, is the ultimate playground for students and the community. It is home to local restaurants, a movie theater, apartments and many live concerts and events throughout the year.

11) The Fresno State Winery is the first commercially bonded winery on a university campus in the U.S. since 1997. Students receive hands-on learning opportunities from vine to bottle and work to produce award-winning wines sold on-campus and throughout the region. Follow enology student Brenna Pratt through the year-long winemaking process at stories.fresnostate.edu.

12) Sequoia, Kings Canyon, and Yosemite National Parks serve as Fresno State's outdoor classrooms for several majors. These parks, along with state parks and the nearby Sequoia and Sierra National Forests, provide a laboratory for classes in recreation and outdoor recreation management.

Empowered for Success

Financial Aid

Approximately 80% of students receive some form of financial aid.

Financial Aid is assistance intended to help students pay for college and reach their educational goals. Assistance may come in a variety of forms, such as grants, scholarships, work, and loan programs. You can submit your Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) at studentaid.gov or the California Dream Act Application (CADAA) at dream.csac.ca.gov.

For the 2024-25 academic year, the U.S. Department of Education is making significant changes to the FAFSA application and anticipates opening the application window in December 2023. Follow the Fresno State Office of Financial Aid on social media (Facebook, Twitter, or Instagram @FSfinancialaid) to stay informed about the upcoming financial aid application window and priority deadline. Remember, you must apply for financial aid each year that you want to be considered.

Fresno State Scholarships

Apply for Fresno State Scholarships October 1 - March 2.
